Austin City Guide

Overview

Austin, Texas, is a city where music, culture, and sports collide in the best way possible! Cheer on the Texas Longhorns Football at the Darrell K Royal Memorial Stadium, or catch an Austin FC match at the electric Q2 Stadium. History buffs will love visiting the Texas Capitol and the LBJ Presidential Library, while shoppers and foodies can explore South Congress Avenue's trendy shops and food trucks. Nature enthusiasts can relax at Zilker Park, swim in Barton Springs Pool or stroll along Lady Bird Lake. Don't miss SXSW (South by Southwest), the iconic festival that turns the city into a global hub for music, film and tech every March. For high-speed thrills, head to Circuit of the Americas (COTA) for Formula 1 races or major concerts. From outdoor adventures to cultural experiences, Austin has something for everyone!

March to May and September to November, with milder temperatures—perfect for festivals, outdoor activities and college football.

What We Love

- The dynamic mix of concerts, sports, culture and history, from Austin FC matches to tours of the Texas Capitol.
- Austin's eclectic food scene, offering everything from mouth-watering BBQ to innovative tacos.
- Family-friendly activities like visiting the Thinkery or paddling on Lady Bird Lake.

Fun Facts About Austin

- Austin is the "Live Music Capital of the World" with over 250 live music venues, like the Moody Center ATX and the annual Austin City Limits Music Festival.

- The Texas Capitol stands taller than the U.S. Capitol Building in Washington, D.C..
- Barton Springs Pool in Zilker Park stays a refreshing 68°F year-round, perfect for cooling off in the summer.

Austin's weather can be hot in the summer, so pack sunscreen, and plan outdoor activities for mornings or late afternoons to stay comfortable!
